Cole, among his Manuscripts now in the British Museum, vol. xxxi. fol. 213 b, noticing the situations of certain ancient places in Cambridge, says, "Chanons of St. Edmund, betwixt Pembroke Hall and the Spittle, but nearer the Spittle. Probably where now Dr. Addenbroke's Hospital is placed."^a Priory of Clattercote, in Oxfordshire.

CLATTERCOTE is in the parish of Cleydon. Tanner says, here was in the time of King John a small Religious House of the Sempringham Order, dedicated to St. Leonard, which was for some time an Hospital for leprous persons; but, about the time of the Suppression, it consisted of a Prior and four Canons, who were endowed with 34*l.* 19*s.* 11*d.* per annum. The Site was granted, in the 30th and 36th Hen. VIIIth, to Sir William Peter; in the 38th Hen. VIIIth, to the King's, that is Christ Church College, Oxford; and, 2 Eliz., to Thomas Lee and Mary his wife.^b Priory of Fordham, in Cambridgeshire.

TANNER calls this Priory Fordham, alias Bigynge. He says, "In a field near this town, Henry, the rural dean of Fordham, began a Religious House, to which Sir Hugh de Malebisse was a considerable benefactor.^c But King Henry the Third, in the 12th year of his reign, giving the Church of Fordham to the Order of Sempringham in Lincolnshire, not long after,^d a small Convent of Gilbertine Canons was settled here. The Messrs. Lysons say that Sir Robert de Fordham was the founder. St. Peter and St. Mary Magdalen^e were the tutelar saints of this Priory, which was endowed at the Suppression with the gross income of 46*l.* 3*s.* 8*d.*, but in clear receipt at the sum of 40*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* per annum. The Site was granted, in the 32d of Henry the VIIIth, according to Tanner, to Philip Parry. The Messrs. Lysons say to Philip Paris, Esq. and Margaret his wife. The Messrs. Lysons say, At a later period, Fordham Abbey became the property and seat of a younger branch of the Russells of Chippenham. The proprietor in 1808 was Francis Noble, Esq.^f The Cotton Manuscript Cleopatra E. iv. fol. 229, contains Dr. Legh's letter to Lord Cromwell concerning this Monastery.^g

Priory of Hitchin, in Hertfordshire.

TANNER calls this House "New Bigging, Gilbertine Nuns." He says, "Near the Church was a small Priory of Gilbertine Nuns."^h endowed, at the Suppression, with the nominal income of 15*l.* 1*s.* 11*d.*; in clear receipts at 13*l.* 16*s.* per annum. The Site was granted, in the 36th Hen. VIII., to John Cokke: in Tanner's time, it was the Schoolhouse of Hitchin. Tanner gives three References to Records concerning this House: "Rot. Pat. 37 Edw. III. p. 1, m. 37. pro ten. et eccl. de Orewell. Pat. 46 Edw. III. p. 2, m. 32. Pat. 3 Edw. IV. p. 3, m. 14." See also, the Repert. Orig. Mus. Brit. vol. iv. fol. 38 b.

Priory of Tunstal, near Redburn, in Lincolnshire.

"ON an island here," says Tanner, "was sometime a House of Gilbertine Nuns, founded by Reginald de Crevequer, temp. R. Steph., which seems to have been united to Bolington by his son Alexander." See the Appendix of Charters to Bolington. Tanner refers to MS. Dodsworth, in bibl. Bodl. vol. xxx. fol. 70.
